THE ENTERPRISE IN LINE.

For some years past the Enterprise has been rather on the fence when it came to any question relative to Jim Fair. It is now squarely in the Republican line and striking sturdy blows. On the inactivity of Fair it has this to say:

"It will be noted by the voters of this State, that while Mr. Woodburn was making his successful effort to amend the Appropriation bill, so that the employees of the Carson Mint should receive their pay, and if possible the Mint continue its operations, that Mr. Fair was at New York attending to private business. The telegraph further informs us that he intends soon to return to the Pacific Coast. This, if true, is very singular conduct on the part of a man holding the high position of United States Senator, and who is currently reported to be a candidate for reelection. It is probable that Congress will not adjourn for several weeks.

Mr. Fair (if we are to believe his favorite method of communication to the public) proposes to wend his way homeward, to the more congenial employment of attending to his "little railroad" schemes at San Francisco.

The present attitude of the Enterprise toward Senator Fair is no doubt the result of positive orders from John Mackay; something to this effect: "Belt the

—In the debate in the House yesterday on the appropriation for the San Francisco Mint, Mr. McKenna called attention to something that certainly needs an explanation. The coinage of silver has been suspended on the Pacific Coast, where it is popular, and is kept up in places where it is hard to get it in circulation. Here nobody ever cares to handle a small bill, and silver dollars are in universal use. In the East people have become so accustomed to one and two dollar bills that they sometimes protest against fingering the clean and beautiful coins. The policy commented upon by Mr. McKenna seems to be only a part of the great scheme of obstructing the use of silver. The House has taken one step in the right direction by appropriating money for the reopening of the Carson Mint.

—John Raymond, the actor, has been snarling at the Pacific Coast people and calling them all manner of hard names because they long ago became wearied of his one groove impersonations. Raymond is simply Raymond in every thing he undertakes, and nothing else. He hires impecunious people to write plays adapted to his peculiarities, and advertises himself with small bull pups and matching half dollars. As a regular star he is about the eighth magnitude.

—Rev. McVere, of Salt Lake, has raised a hornet's nest about his ears by saying that there were no decent men and women outside his church. The "holier than thou" doctrine has ruined a good many churches. The idea that the church makes bad people good and the lack of it makes good people bad, is fast losing ground all over the world. Churches that preach charity should practice it.

—German reporters are not such safe game as some of those in this country. A joker lately gave one of them some misinformation, and when the facts were discovered the reporter demanded $3,000 for the damage his reputation had suffered from the publication of a false item. At last accounts the joker was trying to compromise by offering $250.

—The white men who have been enlisted to fight the Apaches are to be paid $30 a month and rations, a fact that is not calculated to raise to fever-point the enthusiasm of the soldiers who are paid $13 per month, with bacon, coffee and beans thrown in by a generous and paternal Government.

—W. J. Sullivan, a quack doctor of Canonville, Del Norte county, in order to quiet a patient's fears, took some of his prescribed medicine. Both physician and patient are dead.
